Hi

Several comments were submitted to the tert-Butanol docket last night including this comment from API which references the TBA docket, but really discusses the BaP dermal slope factor (see attached). I can have it moved to the BaP docket but would you rather I contact him to ask that he resubmit to the BaP docket instead? He might want to have the opportunity to change his letter. If so, we can have the comment submitted to the TBA docket be held back from posting and we can put a note in there explaining the error.

What do you think?

Vicki
